1. Szigetvár (Y4/A92).

- a. There are no Hungarian Army units stationed in Szigetvár (Y4/A92) either temporarily or permanently, apart from:
- (1) An antiaircraft battery subordinate to the AVH Frontier Guard District Headquarters in Pécs.
 - (2) A frontier fortification battalion.
 - (3) Some female signals troops who work in a building near the Szigetvár Post Office.
- b. Hungarian antiaircraft units are stationed permanently in the area of the Zala Oilfields, south of Nagykanizsa.

2. Tab (Y5/W00).

- a. Many Hungarian soldiers were seen in Tab during the 1953 Christmas holidays. Of those seen, about two-thirds wore bright green shoulderboards with the infantry badge (two crossed rifles); the remainder wore light blue, dark blue, and red shoulderboards.
- b. All the units stationed in Tab are quartered in the large barracks situated near the Csetény Woods on the southeast edge of the town.
- c. On 28 December 1953, eight railroad cars were seen standing on the siding leading to the barracks from Tab railroad station. Four were flatcars with guns covered with tarpaulins. Two of these were closed freight cars.
- d. On 28 December 1953, about 200 soldiers were seen clearing snow on the main
